

University end-of-term clear out toolkit

Let's help students recycle their old or broken electricals during their end-of-year move!

UNIVERSITY MOVE OUT TOOLKIT

Thanks for getting involved!

When students move out of their university accommodation at the end of term, their unwanted electricals get cleared out too. Cables, kettles, toasters and other small household electricals often end up in bins, abandoned in accommodation, or even fly-tipped for landlords and local authorities to deal with. Your support makes a massive difference in helping save valuable, critical and finite materials from being wasted.

If you have any questions or any issues using this toolkit please contact hello@recycleyourelectricals.org.uk

WHY USE RECYCLE YOUR ELECTRICALS ASSETS?

- Changing behaviour is hard, so making it feel as easy as possible for students to act is key.
- Students need consistent, recognisable, trustworthy messages - and lots of reminders! The Recycle Your Electricals campaign is a national, UK-wide and trusted campaign which will be running regular campaigns for years to come.
- Our pink fluffy mascot, HypnoCat has broad appeal and allows us to cut through in a memorable way about a dry topic. In research the majority of the public find him likeable, humorous and remember him long after they've seen the ads. He is now recognised by over half of the UK population.
- Campaign tracking which we have run since 2020 shows
 - Significant increases in awareness of local repair, donation and recycling drop-off points
 - Significant increases in confidence and understanding that all electricals can be recycled
 - Significant increases in people saying they always recycle their batteries and electricals

REPAIR/DONATE/SELL
	Facebook / Instagram	Human students of [location] With the end of the year approaching, many of you will be moving out of your student houses. It's the perfect time for a clear out - so why not finally tackle THAT drawer or box of old or electricals? Working items can be donated or sold, but if it's broken there's still plenty of ways to give it a second life: 🔧 Repair: Don't give it up just yet, many broken items can be fixed! Check out your local repair café's next event and bring your gadgets back from the brink. 🏪 Retailer takeback: All shops that sell electricals will take back your old ones when you buy a new one. Places like @currys, @johnlewis and @bandq_uk take back all electricals, whether you're buying something new or not - and @currys will give you a £5 'Cash For Trash' voucher off your next purchase. Check our Locator for the details and your nearest store. ♻️ Recycle: And if you can't repair, sell or donate your old electricals, never bin them. Anything with a plug, battery or cable can be recycled, even the plugs, batteries and cables themselves! Use our Locator to find all your local drop-off points.

		So banish the bin and don't throw your old electricals out when you move out! Purrrfect. #MoveOut #RecycleResponsibly #RepairReuseRecycle #RecycleYourElectricals #Declutter

BATTERY FIRES

Hidden batteries cause fires	Facebook / Instagram	Greetings, human students of [location]. I am Hypnocat, master purrrrsuader & recycling crusader. Did you know many of your old electricals have batteries hidden within them? That includes cameras, electric shavers and even vapes. These hidden batteries in electricals cause hundreds of fires a year across the UK, when crushed in recycling centres and bin lorries. Never bin hidden batteries! Always recycle them separately from your household rubbish or recycling. Use @recycleyourelectricals_ 'Locator' to find all your local battery and electrical drop-off points: https://bit.ly/4aloefM #RecycleYourElectricals #NeverBinHiddenBatteries #BatteryFire #BatteryFireSafety
