

Battery fire communications toolkit

We've created a communications toolkit to help you spread the message that batteries and electricals should never be binned, and should always recycled separately from household rubbish or recycling.

This toolkit includes social media copy and assets, a press release template, a newsletter template, an A4 poster and a pull-up banner.

Lorry sides are available on request. We can also personalise assets with your council logo and a localised “Humans of XXX”.

Please get in touch with niamh@materialfocus.org.uk for more information, or if you require any other assets not included in the toolkit.
